

Rabbit dental care

Your rabbit's teeth will continue to grow throughout their life. To take care of your rabbit's teeth, make sure you're covering the following:

- ✓ Feed them a high-fibre diet, including fresh hay, that provides extended chewing opportunities. This will help to grind their teeth down.
- ✓ Check their teeth regularly.
- ✓ Overgrown incisors can be trimmed using a dental burr which is usually well tolerated and can provide short term relief.

How do I join?

Our Pet Health Plan is easy to join. All you need to do is complete a simple agreement form with your information, including your banking details.

Three ways to join!

- ✓ Speak to a member of our surgery team
- ✓ Call our plan administrators on 0800 050 2022
- ✓ Scan the QR code to sign up directly through our plan administrators

Our Pet Health Plan is NOT a pet insurance product. Pet insurance is aimed at providing cover for the treatment of unforeseen accidents or illnesses and does not typically cover preventive healthcare costs.

Why choose a Pet Health Plan?

We believe that prevention is always better than cure to help give your much-loved pet a long, healthy and happy life.

Preventing diseases and infestations that can cause fatal illness is giving the best care possible, so we offer a range of effective treatments, tailored to their individual needs.

We cover all the essential treatments throughout your pet's life; and by registering for our Pet Health Plan, we make your pet's preventive healthcare easy and affordable.

Through a simple monthly direct debit you can spread the cost across the year*, and you benefit from additional discounts, reducing your total veterinary bills. Please read on for more information, or speak with one of our team today.

*If the Pet Health Plan is cancelled, the treatment received will be offset against the amount paid to date, which may incur additional charges.

Terms and Conditions apply, full details available at: thepetvet.co.uk/terms-and-conditions

What is Rearguard & why does my rabbit need it?

Rearguard is for the prevention of blowfly strike (Lucilia sericata) in domestic, outdoor-living rabbits from 10 weeks old.

Flystrike is a serious, painful and life-threatening condition that is caused by flies laying their eggs on your rabbit, usually on any dirty fur around their bottom, although other warm, wet areas can be affected. The eggs hatch into maggots which burrow under the skin and feed on the flesh.

Flystrike season in the UK runs from at least April to October. We recommend treating your rabbit every 10 weeks to ensure they remain protected.

What's included?	Rabbits of all ages

NEW - Nurse consult with full health check	✓
NEW - 2 x Nurse checks with teeth burr (or 4 checks and burrs if Rearguard isn't required)	✓
4 x Nurse checks with nail clip	✓

Vaccinations

Vaccinating your rabbit is essential for their health as some diseases can be life-threatening. Vaccinations protect rabbits from these fatal illnesses, ensuring their well-being and preventing outbreaks in the rabbit community. It's a vital part of responsible rabbit care.

Our complete coverage rabbit vaccines protect against Myxomatosis and both strains of Rabbit Haemorrhagic Disease (RHDV-1 & RHDV-2).

Save money with our Pet Health Plan

Our Pet Health Plan covers all the essential treatments needed throughout your rabbit's life, making their preventive healthcare easy and affordable.

What will I save?

Spread the cost of your rabbit's preventive care across the year* & benefit from additional discounts, reducing your total veterinary bills.

*If the Pet Health Plan is cancelled, the treatment received will be offset against the amount paid to date, which may incur additional charges.
